WHO WE ARE

About TicketToWild

From forest trails and wildlife safaris to birdwatching, trekking, rafting, waterfalls, camping, and nature-led journeys, we help travelers find experiences that match their preferred ways of exploring the outdoors.

We offer local guides, naturalists, and experience providers a professional marketplace, ensuring that more value reaches the people who live and work around these destinations.

Why We Started

Planning an outdoor experience should feel exciting—inspiring, clear, and reassuring. TicketToWild helps travelers discover, understand, and book with confidence.

For providers, a focused marketplace where genuine outdoor experiences reach people already looking for them.

OUR PURPOSE

Make outdoor travel easier for travellers and create greater opportunity for the people who deliver it.

Founder Speaks · Built from the Wild

FOUNDER & CEO

Ramakrishna

Discovering the outdoors should begin with curiosity and excitement—not confusion. TicketToWild was started to make that first step easier: to help travelers discover meaningful outdoor experiences with clarity and confidence, while giving genuine local guides and providers a stronger platform to be seen. Not replacing the people who know the wild best—helping travelers reach them. A trusted starting point for anyone who wants to experience India beyond the usual tourist path.

CO-FOUNDER

Nageshwar Rao

Wildlife Photographer and Nature Conservation Advocate

With more than a decade in wildlife photography, conservation awareness, and responsible outdoor travel, including Save the Tiger campaigns and work with forest officials, my journey has been rewarding.

Through the NGO, he organized awareness programs for communities and schools and embarked on field journeys to document lesser-known forests and waterfalls.

For over 10 years, he has been guiding travelers, sharing local knowledge, practical experience, and a deep respect for nature.
